Thank you

There will be no Mrs Mullis – School crossing patrol on the 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st February, please be careful crossing the roads.

Thank you

Grapes

If you pack grapes in your child's lunch box, please make sure they are always cut lengthwise.

This is so they can pass more easily through smaller throats. Grapes should not be left whole or cut width wise, because they'll still be big enough to choke on.

Mini Eggs

With Spring and Easter on its way we are aware there are now lots of Easter eggs and sweets in the shops however can we remind parents that mini eggs are not allowed in school as they could also be a choking hazard. Thanks

No class news for: Nursery SG, Reception GD, Year 1 TY and Year 2 FN

Year 3 – MLK Martin Luther King

Thank you for all of your support over another busy half term! Next week, your child will not bring their blue homework book home as we've collected those in now ready for Spring 2. Please return the blue book on Monday if you still have it at home. Your child will still have a new reading book and a money maths sheet next week to keep them busy.

Class trip – Please check that you have seen the letter about our trip to the Hancock Museum in the first week back after half term (5th March) and returned the slip to the school office. Thank you! 😊

Year 4 – FWD – Fredrick William Dobson

The time to build is approaching. As we come to the last week of half term this is where year 4 will be creating their nature-based sculpture out of recyclable materials, inspired by David Kemp. So, any recyclable material that has been collected could be brought in for next week. Children should have taken home a list of materials they have identified as essential, but you are welcome to send in any extra for any last-minute adjustments. We will be creating our art on Thursday so if they are in by then children can get creative.

Year 5 – BR – Bobby Robson - Hi everyone 😊

Forest School – Friday 21 March will be our third and final Forest School session for this round.

Homework – There will be no homework this week. Thank you for your continuing support!

Class trip – Please check that you have seen the letter about our trip to the Hancock Museum in the first week back after half term (5 March).

Parent/carer meetings – Looking forward to catching up with you on Tues/Wed next week!

Year 6 – MY – Malala Yousafzai

No homework will be given out this week. Children have worked extremely hard once again and so a rest is definitely in order. In fact, they have worked so hard that they have earned enough class points for an afternoon of reward time. As part of this, children are welcome to bring in toys/games from home – nothing electronic so no phones please. We also have plenty of games in class which children are enjoying playing as well.

If you have booked a parents meeting, then see you there. Otherwise, have a lovely February half-term break.

If you would like a paper copy of this letter for your fridge please call to the office and collect one.
